FESTIVITIES IN MONTREAL.

THE ICE PALACE OPENED.

A BRILLIANT AND PICTURESQUE SIGHT—THE SPO

OF THE DAY.

MONTREAL, JAN. 24.—Montreal has outdone her self to-day by her festive appearance in honor of the formal opening of the winter carnival. It was gala day indeed, in which the citizens not only decked their dwellings with National flags, but came forth to mingle with their visitors many of whom had come a long distance to witness Canada's National sports. That the sights provided by the committee have been successful and given satisfaction to all who witnessed them is without question, if the expressions of wonder from the multitudes who witnessed them can be relied upon. A large number of strangers arrived this morning from all directions—the Eastern and Western States, as well as the Provinces, sent large contingents.

The leading thoroughfares soon assumed a cheerful and animated aspect. The weather had moderated and enabled all to witness the outdoormatches to-day with perfect comfort. The curlers were out early and resumed their matches in coverings, the water in the harbor during the preceding night having fallen and having made the open spaces uneven.

The sport was sufficiently attractive again to draw immense crowds of spectators, who watched with interest the movement of the curling stones with interest.

play was more effective than it was yesterday a

In the afternoon there were many announcements and all were admirably carried out. First came the sleigh parade in which the citizens general and the cabmen united. It occurred on the principal boulevard and was an immense turnout, surpassing anything of the kind ever witnessed here. At least two or three thousand well equipped sleighs were in the procession, which was so long and solid that the mounted police brigade was unable to get a place in it. It went off remarkably well, and the multitudes that witnessed the drive were in ecstasies over the sight. The sleighs were in two places between a street and McGill College at the same time, and a great number of spectators were crowded into the seats of considerable wonder among the strangers.

was locked for the evening, when the entrance was formally opened. This unusual ceremony was performed by the electric light and in its transparent glitter shone out like a mass of brilliant. The scene was greatly enhanced with numbers of the snow-shoe clubs, to the number of about 100, who were dressed in their traditional garb and appeared with torches in their hands. It was admitted by everyone that such a picturesque sight had never before been witnessed here. The snow-shoes, although it was snowing at the time, went off of a tramp over the mountain. This closed the evening of the day, and sent everyone home delighted and well satisfied. The next evening a banquet will be a banquet to distinguish visitors by the corporation, and a fancy-dress carnival in the evening.
